

HEALTH EQUITY AND PROSPERITY

Save the Date

Join Hundreds of Leaders from all sectors coming to the University of Maryland to start an American Freedom and Justice Movement if...

- ✓ You want to share a vision of health equity and prosperity with Leaders from the business, non-profit and government sectors.
- ✓ You want to be part of a movement for freedom and justice that reaches five million Americans this year with a vision for health equity and prosperity.
- ✓ You are ready to act by seizing strategic opportunities that bring systems change and move us closer to health equity and prosperity.
- ✓ You can recruit at least ten other leaders to the movement.

We intend to seed thousands of conversations on health equity, freedom and justice across the United States beginning on August 4th and 5th through a historic event to take place at the University of Maryland. This conference will inspire participants to initiate or host health equity and prosperity vision dialogues around the nation.

We intend to make health equity the rallying cry of the next American Freedom and Justice Movement and you will want to be there!

To participate in person you need to commit to conducting Health Equity And Prosperity vision dialogues leading to strategic action. We will ask for reports on how you have helped build the movement. Our partners can support you and your team to actively engage in the entire process and offer feedback on how your action combines with other efforts to achieve a vision for health equity and prosperity.

Dates: August 4-5, 2016

Location: University of Maryland, Stamp Hall, College Park, Maryland

Accommodations: There is a limited block of rooms available on the UMD campus on a first come, first served basis. A list of local hotels will be provided.

Registration: Applications to attend are accepted through Eventbrite at <http://healthequityandprosperity.eventbrite.com>